Fluff is desperate to have a home of her own like her brothers and sisters, but no one seems to want her. Then, Ella turns up at the farm and falls in love with Fluff right away. Unfortunately Ella's mother won't let her have a cat and Fluff is left heartbroken and alone. She sets out to try and find Ella, but gets lost along the way. Can her desire to have a family be enough to guide her into Ella's arms?
